DETAILED ACTION

Response to Arguments

1. Final rejection issued on 1/26/2005 has been withdrawn and after further search and consideration this non-final rejection has been issued.

Allowable Subject Matter

2. Claims 7 and 9 objected to as being dependent upon a rejected base claim, but would be allowable if rewritten in independent form including all of the limitations of the base claim and any intervening claims.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

1. The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

2. Claims 1-6 and 8 rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Musk et al. (2002/0070045) in view of Lin (5,508,556).

Regarding Claims 1-6 and 8, Musk et al. disclose an interconnect system for electronic packages where in Fig it is disclosed a frame 12/14 defining a hermetic boundary and an electrical feedthrough assembly 16/24 on the frame providing electrical connections between signal bond areas within the hermetic boundary and electrical contact areas outside the hermetic boundary. Musk et al. fail to disclose the required internal ground connections. However, Lin discloses a leaded semiconductor device having accessible power supply pad terminals where in Fig. 1, internal ground pad configuration is disclosed as element 24.

It would have been obvious to one of having ordinary skill in the art at the time the invention was made to include the required internal ground configuration in Musk et al. as taught by Lin, in order to have a semiconductor package structure with increased reliability.
